Second Draft in February Classifying Begins Dec. 15

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Wilson formally put the new machinery for the carrying out of the selective draft bill into operation last night with the publication of the forward he has written to the regulation under which the second call will be made.

The regulations and the questionnaires, which more than 9,000,000 registrants will be required to fill out, are being forwarded to local boards, but have not yet been made public.

War Department officials estimate that the whole process can be completed within 60 days. This means that no second call will be made upon the draft forces before the middle of February, the period of classification will not begin until Dec. 15.

Calls for Support.

The President describes the new plan of dividing all registered men, not already mobilized, into five classes, subject to military service by classes, as being intended to produce "a more perfect organization of our man-power."

The inquiry projected in the questionnaire will go deep into the qualifications of each of nearly 10,000,000 men.

The success of the plan and its completion within the estimated time rests, the President says, upon the whole-hearted support given by the people, especially the lawyers and doctors, and the President calls upon them for unstinted aid.

Many Questions Asked.

Supplementing the President's call, Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder, issued the following statement: "The questionnaire which is the basis of the new system is a collection of facts upon which all classifications are made. It is the only printed form which any registrant needs to use, either in making claims or filing proof. At first sight, it may seem a little formidable, but a reading of the questions shows that they are simple enough for any person who can read and write understandingly, to answer."

"The work will begin about Dec. 15. Eight days later the boards will begin the great process of classification, which becomes in the words of the President, 'a national war' to undertake of such significance as to challenge the attention and compel the assistance of every American."

Farm Loans.

It is announced in St. Johnsbury that the loan committee of the Caledonia County National Farm Loan Association has finished the appraisal of the farms for which loans have been sought. Forty-seven farmers applied for loans aggregating $106,000. At the time of organization about a month ago more farmers had joined and applied for loans than in any similar organization in New England.

The interpretation of this condition of affairs among the farmers of Caledonia County is not obvious, by any manner of means. The county would seem to have an abundance of banking capital for loans on real estate security for it has two savings banks with resources of nearly five million dollars, and there are three savings banks and trust companies with resources all told, of five and one-half millions, which they are no doubt ready to loan on real estate, in part and there is not a banker in the world who does not offer things being equal, prefer to lend money in the home neighborhood.

Why, then, this active demand of Caledonia County farmers for loans on the new government plan? Those loans must be paid, principal and interest, just the same as bank loans, and the interest, we think, is no lower. Indeed the scheme was the West, where they have no savings banks and other New England necessities of life.—Burlington News.

The increasing cost of material makes some of the articles cost more than earlier shipments. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Colby and
